Visa Chief Says
He Is Overruled
On Alien VisasTestifies Superiors Overrule
Him On Refusing Visas
To "Security Risks"FIVE TO TEN CASES
MONTHLY OVERRULEDBy GLENN M. GREEN
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(The State Department's visa chief said today that his superiors overruled him "five to 10 times" a month to grant visas to aliens he considered "security risks."

The statement was made by H. J. L'Heureux before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigating alleged subversive activity by aliens in the United States.

Asked About List

The witness was asked about a list of unidentified foreign officials who applied for U. S. visas. The list included a Communist who was said to have blown up a cathedral and killed 500 persons.

L'Heureux said such applicants would not get visas "unless I receive visas from above." Subcommittee Chairman McCarran (D Nev., asked:

"It is not true that every month from five to 10 cases which you did not approve are sent on to higher echelons and approved?"

L'Heureux replied hesitatingly: "That's true."

The cathedral bomber was one of numerous cases read by Committee Counsel Richard Arens as "hypothetical" and later reported by Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., a committee member, as real. The visa applicants were not identified by name.

Ferguson made the statement after the visa chief said there had been only 10 cases altogether. The senator remarked:

Has More Cases

"The committee counsel has read you 10 cases and he has more."

L'Heureux insisted that "other facts" besides espionage and propaganda activities in other countries.

NEW & OBSERVES

In a note received by Pa Newc from a reader of the column, it is reported that each evening during the past week a large flock of birds has been observed flying from the West to the East around 7:45 to 8:45 o'clock in the evening. The writer desires to know the kind of birds and the reason for their flight at this time.

One local salesman has established some sort of a record for long distance automobile selling it has been reported to Pa Newc. The local man, Louis Hunter, of Walmo, sold a car by telephone to Rev. Charles A. Gustafson of Glendale, Calif., formerly of this city. Rev. Gustafson's son, who is a student at W. & J. college inspected the new car and then the deal was consummated by telephone.

Cascade street residents are grateful for the material placed on their street in the vicinity of Butler avenue to alleviate the dust situation. Following the installation of a new storm sewer there, several inches of dust lay on the street. A new flap like substance placed on the thoroughfare by city workmen curbed the dust nuisance in a very few minutes.

Some downtown residents grew quite dizzy during the past few days as they looked up watching workmen painting window frames on one of the taller buildings of the city. The workmen nonchalantly sat on their suspended scaffolding as they completed their task.

With the large amount of vaccination going on in the city, large number of youngsters must be eligible to enter school come September. Some of the boys and girls who carry marks of their visit with the family doctor are quite proud of their bandage feeling it "sort of puts them in a class with the older boys and girls of the neighborhood."

Weapon To End War
Born Four Years Ago

ALAMOGORDO, N.M., July 16.—(INS)—Four years ago today a cluster of top nuclear scientists crouched behind a dirt parapet on the desolate Alamogordo desert of New Mexico.

Quietly they waited for the first demonstration of the product of their science and research. Then, the silence of the desert air was ripped by a terrific explosion. A half-moon-shaped flash filled the air with blinding light. A mushroom of smoke and vapor swelled quickly to giant proportions, and then, gradually, quiet returned.

Weapon To End War
The scientists knew the weapon to end the war had been born.

Work on the bomb continued. Scientists studied the fused sands at the detonation site, collected every bit of available data, and later, at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, the terrible destructive power of the bomb was unleashed.

On this, the fourth anniversary of that first demonstration of man's primary conquest of the atom, newsmen will visit "Trinity" the site of the first explosion.

Then newsmen, ranchers and former residents of the area will hear the Atomic Energy Commission explain findings of medical survey teams that have patrolled and studied the site for over three years.

Supposed Flying
Discs In Chicago
Are Identified

CHICAGO, July 16.—(INS)—"Flying discs" and "fast moving jet planes" that had some Chicagoans worried were identified today as gas balloons used by the University of Chicago for cosmic ray research.

Large numbers of Chicagoans reported seeing mysterious objects in the sky yesterday morning. Descriptions varied from jet planes to silvery globules 40 to 50 feet long.

Professor Marcel Schein ended the mystery when he explained that the university's physics department had released 12 balloons from the football field early in the morning. Attached to the balloons were aluminum sheathed gondolas carrying radio instruments and photographic equipment used in the scientific research.

Steelworkers
Are Gratified

Express Relief That Threatened Strike Set For Today Was Averted

PITTSBURGH, July 16.—(INS)—The nation's steel heartland stoked its furnaces today and members of the CIO-United Steelworkers expressed relief that the threatened strike involving 400,000 of their ranks was averted.

The proposed walkout was called off yesterday after "Big Steel" accepted a 60-day truce proposed by President Truman. During the cooling-off period, the union's wage demands and the company's position will be submitted to a special three-man fact-finding board for arbitration.

Philip Murray, president of the United Steelworkers, told newsmen after the strike was called off that he was happy at the way things had worked out.

"I think we can all express delight that the strike has been averted," Murray added. "That had been the goal of the union."

The rank-and-file membership was even more enthusiastic. Most of them who were willing to comment to newsmen confined their remarks to the financial hardships a strike would entail.

Word that the men, who gave their names as Steve Gomori, Jr., and Charles Frank Gav, of Cleveland, had admitted the robbery in New Castle, was received from Chief of Police George J. Matovich, of Cleveland, by Acting Chief Willis G. McMullen, early Friday (Continued on Page Two)

Question Trio
In Slaying Of Girl Cashier

FLINT, Mich., July 16.—(INS)—Three youths, who confessed a transcontinental crime wave, today were questioned in connection with the fatal shooting of Beatrice Dickerson, 17-year-old Flint theatre cashier.

The three youths were Benjamin James, 17, former inmate of the Boys Vocational School at Lansing; Raymond Bettles, 20, of Pendleton, Ore.; and Chester Satacum, 18, of Tacoma, Wash. The trio underwent intensive grilling when police found a .38 caliber revolver in the truck the boys drove on their whirlwind robbery tour. It was a .38 caliber bullet that killed the pretty high school girl in a bog near her Flint home.

Police quoted the three youths as insisting they were not in Flint early Tuesday, when Beatrice was shot and beaten to death. They disclaimed any knowledge of the brunet, hazel-eyed victim and said that in all their holdups they never picked a woman for a victim.

New Atomic Agreement
May Be Framed With Great Britain, CanadaBy FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Opinion on Capitol Hill veered today toward a belief that President Truman's top-level security conference will lead to a new atomic agreement with Great Britain and Canada.

This view was supported by reports which seeped through the tight wall of secrecy flung around the president's Blair House parley with his highest security advisers.

Most observers think the president is taking steps to wipe out the bitterness which arose over exclusion of this country's wartime bomb-making partners from the secrets of its postwar atomic program.

New York Transit
Strike May Spread

NEW YORK, July 16.—(INS)—New York's surprise transit strike threatened today to spread to the city's largest privately operated bus line and Mayor William O'Dwyer was reported considering returning home from Mexico City to deal with the problem.

Michael J. Quill, international president of the CIO-Transport Workers union, announced that union executives will consider Monday night calling a strike against the Third Avenue Transit system—which carries almost two million persons daily.

Quill charged last night that the Third Avenue line, which is in receivership, has been "stalling" over paying union members $1,000,000 in retroactive pay.

Prominent Slippery Rock Township Man Dies Friday Afternoon

FALLS FROM ROOF OF RURAL CHURCH

Jesse R. Hogue, aged 63 years, of R. D. 1, New Castle, was fatally injured Friday afternoon about 3 o'clock, when he fell from the roof of the Harmony Baptist church, where he was helping to put on a new roof. He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital in an ambulance, but never rallied, expiring of his injuries at 4:37 p. m.

Examination at the hospital revealed severe head injuries and injuries of the spine.

Well Known Carpenter
Mr. Hogue, a well-known carpenter, was born September 27, 1885, in Slippery Rock township, Lawrence county, a son of Samuel D. and Mary Linton Hogue. All of his life was spent in this county. He was a member of Castlewood Christian Missionary Alliance church.

Survivors are: his widow, the former Edna Reid, whom he married 40 years ago; one daughter, Mrs. G. W. Johnston, of New Castle, R. D. 1; three sisters, Mrs. D. R. McKee, of New Castle, Mrs. William Vaneman and Mrs. Harry White, both of New Castle, R. D. 1, and three brothers, Loy E. Hogue, of Ellwood City; Paul and Glenn Hogue, both of New Castle, R. D. 1.

He also leaves four grandchildren, one of whom, Clayton E. Hogue, made his home with the Hogues.

A son, David Reid Hogue, died in 1934. His pastor, Rev. Vernon Orner, and Rev. Oliver Hurst, of First Baptist church, will officiate at funeral services Monday at 2:30 p. m. from the late home, New Castle, R. D. 1. Interment will take place at 11 a. m. (Continued on Page Two)

Seventh ward owners will be registered on Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday, owners on the South Side will be registered at the Scioto street engine house, and on Friday and Monday of the following week registrations will take place at the fourth ward fire station on Ray street.

Steel Fact-Finding Board Named

Believes State Court
Wage Tax Decision
Settles Local Issue

Wage taxes cannot be collected from a taxpayer in the place of his residence and in the place of his employment, according to two decisions of the State Superior Court on Friday.

Ruling on an appeal from the court of Judge Linus T. Hoban of Lackawanna County, the Superior Court held that where a man is assessed a wage tax in the place of his residence, he cannot then be assessed a wage tax in the place of his employment. If the amounts are different, credit must be given him for the amount paid at his place of residence.

"Settles Case Here"
In the opinion of Attorney William J. Caldwell, the decision of the superior court settles a controversy here over the same question.

New Castle has a ten mill wage tax. Shenango, Neshannock, Union and Hickory townships assess a mill wage tax for the school districts.

City Solicitor Robert M. White has said that the township residents working in New Castle could not claim a credit upon their New Castle wage tax assessments. (Continued on Page Two)

Deeper Slash In Military Budget
Will Be SoughtBy CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—An economy bloc senator promised today to make a floor battle for a deeper cut in the military budget than the billion dollars plus slashed by the appropriations committee.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., in taking this stand, said he will continue his fight to trim 10 percent from the 15 billion the administration is seeking for the armed forces in fiscal 1950.

Reduction Inadequate
Ferguson declared that the reduction made by the committee is "inadequate." He said it amounts to only three percent.

The appropriations group approved a budget of 14 billion, 895 million dollars for the armed forces, paring one billion, 10 million dollars from the amount allowed by the House.

Ferguson declared, however, that much of this cannot be considered a savings because 800 million of it was achieved by removing money inserted by the House for extra planes.

He said this money was not requested by the administration. The Michigan senator revealed that he lost in his 10 percent cut demand in the committee by a 6 to 12 vote. He expressed belief that the matter should still be brought before the full Senate when the time comes for final approval of the bill.

Stabbed To Death
In Robbery Of Pay

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—(INS)—Mrs. Elizabeth Calhoun, 50-year-old widowed mother, was stabbed to death outside of her north Philadelphia home today while fighting to save her week's pay from a purse snatcher.

Police said her throat was slashed twice with a kitchen paring knife which severed the jugular vein, causing her to bleed to death. The blood-stained knife was found at the scene. Her fight was futile for the thug made off with the purse containing $50.

Mrs. Calhoun managed to struggle to her home where she aroused sleeping members of her family and collapsed.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(INS)—The White House announced today that President Truman's fact-finding board will hold its first meeting Monday in the steel wage dispute.

The three members of the panel, named to investigate the steel case under a 60-day strike truce, will meet at 11 a. m. Monday with Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman.

The board also is expected to confer with Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching. Actual hearings may not begin for a week while the panel acquires a staff and sets up headquarters.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A presidential fact-finding board is expected in Washington Monday to begin an investigation of the steel wage wrangle under a 60-day strike truce.

The three-man panel presumably will confer with John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman, and Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching to learn the background of the dispute, acquire a staff and set up headquarters. But actual hearings may not begin for a week.

Board Members
The board includes three men with diversified skills. They are: Carroll R. Daugherty, Northwestern University professor and chairman of the panel, one of the nation's top economists; Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, of New York, a skilled attorney and former counselor to the president; David L. Cole, of Paterson, N. J., an expert mediator of labor disputes.

Daugherty served during the war in the government's wage stabilization program. Cole has been a member of numerous wage panels and his most recent major service was as a member of the board which handled John L. Lewis' pension dispute last summer.

President Truman appointed the group a few hours after the United States Steel Corporation removed the last threat of a strike by agreeing to a White House peace plan. The walkout had been scheduled for 12:01 a. m. (EDT) this morning. (Continued on Page Two)

Four Are Killed

BEDFORD, Pa., July 16.—(INS)—Four persons were killed last night in an accident on the Pennsylvania turnpike one mile west of Everett.

Police said a tractor-trailer truck driven by Ernest Farm of Lake Villa, Ill., plowed into the rear of a 1940 coupe.

All four persons riding in the coupe were killed.

Police listed the victims as Marine Cpl. Robert Doll, stationed at Henderson Hall, Arlington, Va.; Mary E. Smetana, 19, of Bradenville, Pa.; Sara Mireles, 19, of Torrance, and Stella Riggs, 20, Mayville, N. C.

International Lions Club Convention To Draw Huge Crowd To Sessions

NEW YORK, July 16.—(INS)—The vanguard of thousands of delegates to the 32nd International Lions club convention poured into New York today in every conceivable vehicle.

One group, the Cortland, O., delegation, pulled up before its hotel in a little house on wheels. Among the lions arriving by more conventional means were delegates that flew from Lima, Peru, and a group from La Junta, Calif., that arrived by bus.

The Lima club representatives brought Peruvian beauty Lilliana Rumiano with them, and boasted she was a sure thing to win the prize in the beauty contest that is one of the convention features.

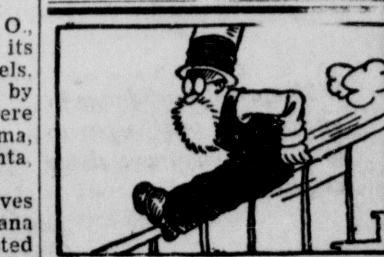

The various delegations registered today at Madison Square Garden, the headquarters for the convention. During the rest of the week, the Garden will house business meetings, the beauty contest and the big "international night revue."

The convention will open officially on Monday night with a gala parade down Fifth avenue.

Aliens Attached To U. N. Are Now Under Suspicion

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(INS)—More than 25 aliens attached to the United Nations headquarters in New York City are under suspicion today of spying on the United States.

Attorney General Clark laid this information before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee studying ways and means of keeping espionage agents out of the country.

Clark, in a surprise appearance before the group, briefly lifted the security veil from the Justice department's espionage activities to disclose:

1. The department now has under surveillance about 685 aliens suspected of engaging in espionage.

2. That about four percent of these are persons attached to the United Nations headquarters.

3. At least one military attaché from an "Iron Curtain" country arrived in the United States after the Second World War for the express purpose of setting up a military intelligence network, but apparently was unsuccessful.

4. One U. S. employé is suspected of being a contact for an espionage agent of a foreign country.

Clark estimated that there are nearly 650,000 Communist and fellow travelers in the United States.

Hold Seven-Year-Old For Shooting Grocer

San Francisco Grocer Loses Life When Seven-Year-Old Lad Pulls Trigger On Gun

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—(INS)—Juvenile authorities today held a 7-year-old boy who San Francisco police said admitted fatally shooting an elderly mission district grocer.

Police reported the grocer, Fred Throckmorton, 67, was shot to death last night with a .32 calibre revolver.

His wife said she heard a single shot and then the sound of children's feet leaving the store.

On the counter was a note saying: "Please send $1 worth of nice hamburger. Thank you."

Police traced the note to 7-year-old Teddie Moreno, son of a truck driver. The boy first said he saw a man demand money and then shoot the grocer.

Later, police inspector Al Neider reported that the lad admitted he went behind the counter, picked up the pistol and pulled the trigger "with both hands."

Police believed the child did not realize what he was doing when he squeezed the trigger and discharged the gun at the grocer.

His little sister, two years younger, was present at the time according to the account given out by police.

BELIEVES COURT DECISION SETTLES LOCAL ISSUE

ment because of the township wage taxes.

The two taxes were not like taxes, Solicitor White has claimed.

"The decision of the Superior Court settles the issue here," said Mr. Caldwell. "We have held that the Act 481 of 1947 provided for a credit for taxpayers where they paid a wage tax in the place of residence but worked in another district."

The Superior Court has affirmed that view in the case of the Glen Alden Coal Company and the case of Gomer Morgan. In both cases, taxpayers were assessed wage taxes in their place of residence and in the place of their employment.

The decision of the Superior Court upholds the decisions of Judge Linus T. Hoban of the Lackawanna County Court of Common Pleas. Judge Hoban held that a wage tax was a tax for general purposes under the act, regardless of whether it was assessed for borough or city purposes or school purposes.

Mr. Caldwell is the attorney for the four townships here that have assessed a ten mill wage tax. He has claimed that residents of the townships must receive credit for the township wage taxes where they are assessed wage taxes in the City of New Castle.

"With this decision of the Superior Court at hand," said Mr. Caldwell, "I feel sure the controversy here will be finished. The cases in Lackawanna County are identical with those here in Lawrence County and I feel sure the city will recognize this fact and make proper adjustments here."

tries may figure in whether a visa is finally granted.

There was no direct testimony on whether the "hypothetical" applicants described by Arens actually were cleared to represent foreign government or international organizations in the U. S. The inference was that some or all of them got visas.

Arens described one case as that of a man "reported to have been the leader of a terrorist band who shot more people than you and I could bury in a fortnight."

The testimony came as the subcommittee studied pending legislation aimed at making it easier to bar aliens from "immunity" visas as representatives of foreign governments or international groups.

FACT-FINDING BOARD TO START STEEL INQUIRY

ing by the CIO Steelworkers Union. U. S. Steel Falls In Line

CIO President Philip Murray last Wednesday agreed to Mr. Truman's proposal for averting a walkout, but the major producers delayed until 12 hours before the strike deadline. U. S. Steel was the last big company to fall in line.

The industry agreed along with the union to continue operations for 60 days under the present wage contract while the fact-finders study the dispute and make recommendations for settlement.

Murray's one million steelworkers are seeking a fourth round wage increase and an industry-financed pension and insurance program. The steel companies have rejected the demand.

Neither side will be bound by the board's recommendations, but government officials believe its findings will pay the way for peaceful negotiation of a new steel wage agreement.

Report In 45 Days
Mr. Truman asked the panel to report within 45 days. That will leave 15 days for the bargaining before the truce expires in mid-September.

"Big Steel" objected strenuously to presenting its case to any board with the power to make recommendations. Benjamin F. Fairless, U. S. Steel president, said this feature circumvented the Taft-Hartley Act and he requested Mr. Truman to deny the board such authority.

When the president refused, U. S. Steel finally agreed to appear before the fact finders on the understanding that there will be "no moral or legal obligation" on the company. Fairless declared:

"Our views are unchanged with respect to the propriety of the action we feel we are being compelled to follow in order to avoid a strike."

The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

afternoon. Chief Matowich enclosed a number of police pictures of the pair in the letter, the two having been indicted in Cleveland on armed robbery charges. They were arrested there last month.

Trial Unlikely Here
It is unlikely that the men will be brought here for trial at the present time, as they are being held under heavy bail, for trial in Cleveland.

Both are young men, in their early 20's.

In the holdup committed here in March, the pair posed as wanting to negotiate a loan, and at a favorable time for them, pulled automatic pistols and forced the employees of the office to turn over the contents of the cash drawer and safe.

Although an alarm was sounded immediately, they made good their escape.

KILLED BY AUTO
WEST FAIRVIEW, Pa., July 16.—(INS)—A man identified as William Irvin Hall, of Harrisburg, was killed instantly yesterday when he reportedly dashed into the path of an automobile in West Fairview.

Jack D. Grover, of Harrisburg, driver of the automobile, said the man ran across the street and directly into the vehicle's path. He was released by police pending investigation.

Man Is Held On Suspicion Charge

Michigan Resident With Several Aliases Taken Into Custody

Officer Walter Bartoshek took into custody a man, who gave his name to police as Simon S. Bida, of Hamtramck, Mich., on a charge of suspicion at 11:15 p. m. He was arrested in the West Side cafe on complaint of the proprietor that he was attempting to cash a check. He used several different names it is claimed.

He told police that he was staying at the New Penn hotel, where he had registered under the name of Dr. J. L. Monahan, of 1615 Prospect street, Los Angeles, Calif. He also said to have used the alias of Dr. Ford.

When his room at the New Penn was visited, a brief case containing a cap pistol, which much resembled the real thing, glass cutter, two pairs of leather gloves, and an identification bracelet bearing the name of Bob Preston, along with other articles, was found, police report.

He also had a brief case, which was reported as stolen from the auto of Harry G. Jones, of 416 Highland avenue, on July 15, between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m. Mr. Jones, stated that his car had been damaged by the person who took the case. Jones identified the brief case as the one which had been taken from his car.

Bida will be held for further investigation by the police, Chief Robert D. Hanna stated this morning.

ALFERA-JACOBS

HOME WEDDING

The subdued glow of candlelight and the lovely aura from floral bouquets provided a setting for the marriage of Miss Tresa Alfera, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Alfera, 608½ Pearson street, and Edward Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobs, 718 Oak street. The young couple exchanged nuptial vows this morning at 9:30 a. m. before an improvised altar in the Jacobs home.

Rev. Elias Nader performed the ceremony, using the double ring service.

The pretty all white wedding was climaxed with the appearance of the winsome bride in a beautifully styled gown of springana, fashioned with a sheer yolk outlined with a deep ruffle of the material. Dainty ruffles cascaded from the waist line of the bouffant skirt to the bottom of the flowing Peacock train, and the lovely lines of the gown were further emphasized by a fingertip veil of imported illusion which was trimmed with Alcon lace and attached to a Dutch lara embroidered with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible marked with an orchid and showed with streamers of stephanotis.

Bridesmaids, Miss Inez Calvanese and bridesmaids the Misses Mildred Torsello, Mary Calmano, and Lotie Jacobson, and Eugene Pace were becomingly attired in nylon marquisette frocks fashioned similarly to the bride's and accented by cartwheel hats. Their flowers were colonial bouquets tinted in pale pastel hues.

Joseph Temperato attended the bridegroom as best man and ushering were Eugene Pace, Pat and Frank DeMarco, and Vincent Alfera, a brother of the bride.

Miss Jo Ann Fusco, pianist, accompanied soloist Vincent Alfera, brother of the bride, as he sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The bridal breakfast was held at the home of Mrs. Pasquale Pace and Pearson street, sister of the bride. Dinner was served at a local dining room to 80 guests, and the evening reception will be held at the C. I. O. hall for approximately 300 guests.

The young couple departed for a honeymoon, Niagara Falls and will live at 405 Pearson street when they return.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs both attended New Castle high school and are employed at the Shenango Pottery Co.

LONG-COLTERYAHN

ENGAGEMENT TOLD

At a picnic supper held recently at Venditto's summer home at Cottage Grove, the engagement of Miss Rachel E. Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Long of 325 Jackson avenue, Vandergrift, Pa., was announced to Louis Colteryahn of Cleveland, O., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Colteryahn of Burgettstown, Pa.

The wedding plans are indefinite at present.

Miss Long is the director of nursing at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mr. Colteryahn is a research metallurgist at the National Advisory Committee of Aeronautics in Cleveland, O.

BARELLA-AUGUSTINE

ENGAGED, REVEALED

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Barella, 526 Lyndal street, revealed today that their daughter, Mary Ann, and Charles Augustine, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Augustine, 716 North Mercer street, are affianced. The wedding plans are still in the tentative stage.

Gay Eight Club

Members of the Gay Eight club met with Mrs. Ralph Lombardo Thursday evening at Cascade Park. Prizes were captured for cards by Mrs. Sam Scaduto, Mrs. Pete Vendemia and Mrs. Joseph Pauline, the latter also receiving the club token.

The birthday of Mrs. Ralph Lombardo was honored and she was presented with a gift.

Afterwards the park concessions were enjoyed by the group. The hostess was aided by her daughter, Roseann and Joan Pauline, in serving a dainty lunch. They were also special guests.

July 28, is the meeting with Mrs. Alfonso Natale at Cascade Park.

POWELL-FREEMAN

WED AT PARSONAGE

Miss Pauline Anna Mae Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Powell 611½ W. North street and Charles Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman, 119 North Mill street were married July 13 at 4 p. m. at an impressive ceremony performed by Rev. H. H. Grove in the parsonage of the Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren church, South Jefferson street.

Rev. Grove, pastor of the church, read the double ring service in the presence of friends and relatives.

The bride presented an attractive picture in a stilet length dress of shell pink silk taffeta complemented with a corsage of white roses and gardenias.

Maid of honor, Miss Nance Fife wore a street length frock of sky blue with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Robert Powell, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man.

A wedding dinner was served at the bride's parents home following the ceremony, for the bridal party, immediate families and intimate friends. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Woodrow Cole, Mrs. Madison Gill, Mrs. Lawrence Flickinger and Mrs. Freda Anderson, relatives of the bride.

An evening reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for 100 relatives and friends.

The bride's brother, E. N. 3 Albert E. Powell Jr. stationed in the Kwajalein Islands, sent a silk handmade table cloth which covered the bridal table. Another brother, Walter S. Powell, S. N. who was also unable to be present, at the wedding, sent a congratulatory message to the bride couple.

Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Freeman, parents of the newlyweds poured at the reception and the aides were Mrs. Jennie Reher and Mrs. Mary Rau.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will reside at 22 Atlantic avenue, this city.

Mrs. Freeman has been employed at the Shenango Pottery company and Mr. Freeman is employed at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, Youngstown. He served four years with the U. S. Army.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Eli Byler of Covert Station road, on September 8, with Miss Mary Theresa Byler and Mrs. George Hudson as co-hostesses. The program will be conducted by Miss Elma Robinson. A garden auction will be featured in the program.

SAVELLI-MANGINO

WEDDING IN CHURCH

Miss Stella Savelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Savelli, of 236 Shady-side, became the bride of Lawrence Mangino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mangino, Sr., of 132 South Cedar street, at an impressive wedding performed in St. Joseph's church, on July 9.

Vows were exchanged by the young couple at 9 a. m. Rev. Fr. Cornelius Becker officiating and using the double ring ceremony.

Lovely summer flowers and ferns banked the altar, and many friends and relatives were in attendance.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a white gown of sheer marquisette, with ruffled yoke, with full skirt trimmed with three rows of ruffles, made entrain. Her long veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies centered with two orchids and streamers of stephanotis. As her only jewelry she wore a gold cross, a gift from the bridegroom's mother.

Miss Phyllis Sibeto, as maid of honor, wore a yellow sheer marquisette gown with full skirt, cape sleeves and orchid picture hat and matching mitts. She carried yellow tea roses. Bridesmaids, Misses Josephine Querriera, Jean Panella, Viola Mangino, sister of the bridegroom, Marceline Passerello and Loretta Papa, wore orchid marquisette gowns with yellow picture hats and carried bouquets of yellow roses. Little flower girls, Paula Marie Savelli, and Judith Ann Cwynar, nieces of the bride and bridegroom, wore yellow gowns and carried bouquets of yellow roses.

William Maorianno served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were: Michael and Nick Masters, cousins of the bridegroom, Albert Domenico and Benny Rozzi.

A wedding breakfast was served in St. Margaret's hall guests numbering to 150. At the wedding dinner at 1 o'clock, places were marked for 400 guests. Honored guest was Rev. Fr. Cornelius Becker. In the evening about six hundred attended a reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Mangino departed on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, New York and Canada and upon their return will reside at 236 Shady-side.

Mrs. Mangino was employed at Smith's Dry Cleaners company. Mr. Mangino served in the U. S. Army for two years and is now employed at Sharon Steel Company.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Millions of Roman Catholics throughout the world are called upon to choose between Communism and their church.

The decree of major excommunication against all Catholics adhering to Communism or teaching its doctrines is certain to have tremendous repercussions, which is what the Vatican expected.

It was one of the strongest rulings made by the church since the days of its temporal power when papal "bulls" frequently changed the course of history.

The Vatican now has made clear, however, that Catholics who have strayed from the path willingly or under duress can obtain absolution and readmittance to the church and the benefit of its sacraments.

They Must Repent

They must repent, and it undoubtedly will be up to parish priests to decide the extent of guilt and the rapidity with which forgiveness can be obtained.

It is virtually impossible to estimate the number of Catholics who have become Communists.

Best available figures show 23 million members of the Communist party in both hemispheres. Inasmuch as many nations under Soviet domination are predominantly Catholic and as the party has considerable strength in certain areas of Latin America where the church is powerful, it is inevitable that large numbers of normally religious persons have adopted the Communist line.

The big question is just how many of these have been forced to do so.

Lithuania Case Is Point

Lithuania is a case in point. This Baltic nation is predominantly Catholic. But it is hemmed in on all sides by Communist nations and has, in point of fact, been engulfed and virtually annexed by Russia.

It has been transformed into a police state from top to bottom, which means that the church has come under government control and while there may be ostensible freedom of worship it certainly is not encouraged.

In all probability things are made very uncomfortable for persons who openly show a preference for high church and party meetings.

Vatican observers are known to believe that many Catholics in Lithuania and Czechoslovakia, for example, have decided that the only way they can retain their churchgoing habits at all is by giving lip service to their Red masters.

This class falls into the most innocent of the various categories listed in the excommunication. More favored still would be any persons willing to risk his personal safety for the sake of the church. But the Vatican is always mindful of the "human frailty" of which Cardinal Mindszenty so tragically spoke in repudiating in advance any "confession" he might make.

Fear Is Factor

In the eastern Catholic countries of Europe and especially among the older generation, the fear of excommunication might well outbalance the fear of Communist strongarm squads.

To die without extreme unction, the last rites of the church, is tragedy of the worst sort in the minds of the older peasant folk, and yesterday's decree stipulated that this sacrament would be lost with all others by those affected.

The initial dispatches from Prague after the announcement was made clearly indicated a nervousness which was felt even in the highest ranks of the government.

Spokesmen immediately began

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"How to Meet the Recession" is the title of a series of three half-hour radio programs soon to start on one of the national networks.

A college professor will be chairman of the series and a number of so-called economic authorities will be guests, contributing their respective plaid.

I shall not listen to any of these discussions.

For years now these forums have been on the air.

For years hundreds of experts have spouted words of wisdom on hundreds of problems that confront us.

In fifteen-minute programs, in half-hour programs, in full-hour programs they have found the cure for most of our national and international diseases.

They have found the cure. But the diseases are still with us.

They have solved our problems.

But the problems still confront us.

Some time ago I wrote that if there were a tax on words fewer of them would be used.

I also said that the people who do the least thinking do the most talking.

That goes doubly for these radio discussions.

They seem so futile.

They are convenient outlets for a lot of publicity seekers or money-hungry folks who want to make a few easy dollars on the side.

A couple of years ago I hired me a woman press agent.

I wanted to get famous quickly.

She promised to write beautiful pieces about me and blazon my name over the horizons.

"Erich," she said, "was to be a household word among all who could read and a name that would long outlast that of Shakespeare and Milton Berle."

What did she do for the three hundred dollars and expenses I paid her monthly?

She put me on radio programs! So I got up early in the morning and went on Maggi McNellis's program. And I broadcast on the Voice of America. Dorothy Dean or one who got me for free.

Something like that was another one day I even was squeezed in between phonograph records and commercials by Andre Baruch and Bea Wain on their "Mr. and Mrs. Music" show.

When I was out a thousand dollars of hard-earned cash and a number of sumptuous meals at the Stork Club, the Sherry-Netherlands and other expensive places "where I would meet the right kind of people" I stopped.

If I had to try to become famous by being a sucker for a lot of people I might as well remain unknown, I figured.

Do you want to be an "expert" on a radio show?

Why not? Everybody else is. (Copyright, 1949, Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

VOLUNTARY COMMUNITY SERVICE

All too often our children hear at home, at school and elsewhere of a few public servants who are unfaithful to their trust. All too seldom do they hear of the many, many conscientious, faithful public servants. As a result, these growing children gain an untrue picture of our democracy and fail to gain an adequate appreciation of it and enthusiasm for it.

Among the liberties we cherish are liberties of speech and press. But we all tend to talk more about the things we see wrong than the things we see right. It takes less effort and intelligence, of course, to do so, and it gives anybody a feeling of superiority to talk about the wrongs by other persons—one reason why we parents are so miserably with deserved approvals of our children and so generous with rebukes.

Big Field

There is a big field in which we parents and teachers might more easily express generous appreciation and approval before our children of public servants—and in doing so our political prejudices would not hamper us so much—the field of voluntary community service.

How about telling our children at home or at school, even at church, about those persons in the community who serve it without pay? A few of these servants may be elected by the people or appointed by a public official, such as the members of the public board of education, in most places. Perhaps not one school child in a hundred knows that school trustees are not as a rule paid; or have any idea about the amount of time these trustees spend at serving the public. In some small communities and boroughs the men and women who are members of the governing council elected by the people receive no salary.

Then, too, in any county, town or city ever so many busy, talented citizens not usually elected by the people or appointed by any official of the local government serve as trustees or board members in a voluntary capacity for some community organization or institution—hospital, public library, welfare agency or character building agency. The best made plans of mice and men are formed when the time is ripe . . . time is ripe today for we people of New Castle to begin working out a problem for the future. There is, we firmly believe, a need for swimming pools . . . the small type . . . fully filtered . . . call 'em sectional swimming pools. Sectional in that they would be located in various sections of the community.

Cost of such construction could now be determined . . . location could be investigated. Plans are what we need . . . long range plans . . . a complete plan of advancement can easily be set up . . . and as the years roll by various parts of such a plan could be completed . . . all fitting into the over-all picture. It's time that we get away from the hit and miss idea . . . hoping that what is done this year will fit into the picture of what is accomplished in the years to come.

Our city fathers have ideas . . . private citizens have ideas . . . an active committee could act on all ideas . . . draw up a plan . . . and then set forth to accomplish the over-all picture in a year to year basis . . . Such an idea could well be fostered by the Greater New Castle Association . . . the membership of the GNCA is now at a point where a large number of citizens from all sections of the community have joined hands . . . Cooperation is the theme. As soon as summer vacation is over . . . about a month and a half yet . . . work should be done in earnest on this project . . . and in the meantime, all those who have ideas for the betterment of all people should take a moment or two and jot them down on paper . . . send them to this office or the GNCA office.

Plans are now being made for a community party . . . to be held sometime in the early fall . . . This plan is being worked out by members of the GNCA . . . object, get to know your fellow citizen. This article is not exactly meant to be a sales letter for the GNCA . . . but if you don't now hold a membership you would be wise in investigating the opportunities that are available in being a member . . . for example . . . every booster for New Castle makes it that much easier for outside interest to hear of our fine community . . . which in turn draws people to our stores, our factories which all makes for greater prosperity.

Washington Calling

Campaign Pledges Fail

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Even though political memories are notoriously short, few politicians can have forgotten President Truman's repeated campaign pledge to work for low-cost power. At every whistle stop in the west he talked about the need not only for government-owned power dams but for government-owned transmission lines for carrying public power at low rates.

Those promises helped him to carry many western states, which at the beginning of the campaign were considered sure for Governor Dewey. Yet now the sizeable Democratic majorities in senate and house, a vital feature of the program has been given the axe.

In areas where large public-power projects have been built, the advocates of low-cost power believe it is essential that the government construct and operate transmission lines. Otherwise, a private utility—a private monopoly—buys the power at the dam at a low price and sells it to the consumer at a considerably higher price.

Republicans in the 80th congress cut off funds for such lines. Democrats have joined Republicans in a senate committee report to take the same action.

In Face of Pledge

How can this happen in the face of repeated Democratic campaign pledges? One answer is that highly placed Democrats who participated directly in the victory did not seem anxious to make good on the pledges. On the contrary, they were working for the private utilities.

Williams M. Boyle, Jr., executive director of the Democratic national committee, wrote a letter to the department of interior as a representative of southwest utilities opposing publicly owned transmission lines for the Southwest Power Authority. When Speaker Sam Rayburn got wind of this he charged down to the White House and it was not long afterward that Boyle ceased his private law practice and became full-time paid director of the Democratic committee.

A little later a former executive of the committee, Richard Nacy, Jefferson City, Mo., banker, asked congressmen to vote against the power lines. As in the case of Boyle, several Fair Deal Democrats protested to the White House.

Even though the impression was spread by these friends of the president that a vote against this phase of the public-power program was okay, the house approved it. In the senate, however, the private-power lobby found allies in a few senators who occupy highly strategic positions.

Items Stricken Out

On the senate subcommittee considering the interior department bill were Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada and Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, both Democrats. They are credited with doing more than anyone else to see that items fought by the power lobby were stricken out of the bill as it came to the senate from the house. And highest honors are quite generally awarded to McCarran.

The stout senator from Nevada has in this session of congress been making sure that the champion of special interest and special prejudices. Even though there is considerable rivalry, he stands at the head of the list.

Almost singlehandedly McCarran has bottled up the displaced persons bill. He got committee approval of $50,000,000 for Franco in Spain, he engineered a 10 per cent cut in the ECA appropriations. (Continued on Next Page)

BIRDMAN

In a pleasant land a gentle man
With beard of gray and cheeks of tan
Waits for the birds from spring to fall
And calls them his neighbors, one and all.

"Though I live alone," he said to me,
"Always I've glorious company."

"I've a guest book here which I keep to show
The dates when my visitors come and go.

The first to land on my window sill
I feel 'til he tells me he's had his fill.

Alone? Not I! When I'm having tea
The sweetest of song birds sing for me.

"I have prize fights, too, and a ringside seat
When two jealous rivals chance to meet,
Both wooing the self-same lady fair.
The feathers start filling the springtime air.

Alone? Not I! 'Til the long day ends
I've the comradeship of a thousand friends." (Copyright, 1949, Edgar A. Guest)

POLISH 'EM OFF

Every once in a while the president's Council of Economic Advisers issues a report on the state of the union, usually with certain recommendations to the executive and Congress. The latest outkicking suggested that the administration "scale down" the demand for four billions in new taxes and that certain excise taxes be lowered or removed (this was done just recently). Another section of the report was an expression against the inauguration of any large public works program at this time.

These recommendations are reasonable, although the council has been on sounder ground if it had asked for complete withdrawal of the proposed four-billion extra levy and advocated abolition of most of the excise taxes which act as brakes on business and industry (this has just been done. Evidently the council has left the president as the only advocate of "anti-inflation" legislation, although previously the two left-wing members have insisted on "controls" over prices.

Losing Battle On Insects

By PAUL GALLICO

The stuff they put out in cans, jars, boxes and bottles guaranteed to destroy the insect life that is bent upon feeding off things that I mean to eat, smell, or use for decoration, ought to bear vintage marks, district and year, because it is obviously tippie to the bugs. They love it, get high on it and always come back for more. There ought to be some allowances made for them so that they can identify it and order it.

There have been bugs in my garden, for instance, that have been living for so long off my Chateau-bottled Arsenic that when I changed the brand and offered them some of my second-growth Strychnine, Copper Sulphate and D. D. T. solution, they refused to touch it and get decently drunk on it as they had in the past, giving me a few hours respite until they slept it off, but morosely refused to go near any of it and instead concentrated on eating my roses.

Half Century Duel

This duel between me and things that fly, crawl, creep, buzz and sting, and have too many legs and long feelers or antennae that they wave out in front of them to pick up any stray messages or news bulletins, has been going on now for close to half a century during which time man and chemistry have made enormous progress, and in that direction too, I am told, but not with MY insects. I'd say it has been a losing battle all the way and for consistency's sake I am not too upset over the thought that they are to have me in the end. I've never been able to do more than make a little trouble for them by getting them plastered with whatever anti-bug infusion happened to be on hand at the time.

I have killed my bug with a slap or a stomp, but never have I been able to stage any mass slaughters such as is supposed to be accomplished by spraying from aeroplanes. And believe me, I have flit-gunned, pressure hosed, sprayed and dusted. Half a century, I tell you. And I don't think I've ever done a bug more injury than getting him into a jam with his old lady when he went home to her ossified and singing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," after sampling some of my aged-in-the-wood Anti-Bug Preparation.

For a while I thought D. D. T. was going to do it. I think I must have felt the way the Germans did when they first invented and produced poison gas in quantities designed for humans who did not believe in the Herenkovik idea. At last, the wherewithal to exterminate the insect race. Down on the farm we used to have a gathering place for bugs out on the porch underneath the light where they used to come at night and discuss the day's depredations and talk up new methods of getting at the roots of growing things. I fairly poured it on 'em.

Got Limp And Soggy

Oh, they got limp and soggy all right. They fell off the wall and went around in circles. Their wings got wet and they couldn't take off, their knees were distinctly rubbery and they could only stagger. But in the morning—corpses. During the night they had slept off their jags and gone home.

The bugs loved the D. D. T., but I got sick from it. We cut that out in a hurry.

I know now that the best I can get is a respite and I am willing to settle for that. If I keep my bugs decently drunk on good mixtures I can count upon at least eight hours out of the twenty-four when they will be too fuzzy to tell a rose from a gladioli or an asparagus plant from a runner bean, and another two during which time they are recovering from hangovers and a raw potato or Crispin Beauty Rose does not look too attractive to them. They will walk or fly over wandy and have a sniff at them, but they won't be having any. And for the rest, I am prepared to share.

And I don't think anybody ought to ask any more. If you ask me, there is too much killing going on on earth and we ought to be more tolerant—even of people, though I appreciate that this is difficult. After all, what most things that creep, fly, wriggle or crawl seem to be interested in, is getting something to eat. I believe it is right and proper for us to try to curb their tendencies towards gluttony, but a fellow trying to get himself a square meal isn't anything to go to war over.

I am glad I feel this way about it after all these years because they tell me my blood pressure is much more normal. I can go wandering in my garden and view the insect world dining off my property with equanimity. A leaf here, a bud there, all right. But any funny business and out comes the old sprayer loaded with a fine old COTE DE CYANIDE '37, a great year. Then they've bought it. Roaring drunk in two minutes and thereafter all that goes with it—the fearful dreams in the night, the splitting headache, the furry tongue, the thirst, the awful jaundiced outlook on life. Slows 'em up a little. That's all one can ask.

'Bogey-Man' Economics

President Truman's latest exposition of his "bogey-man" theory of economics contributes little to the solution of the Nation's No. 1 problem, making sure that the present drop in business activity does not reach disastrous proportions.

The "plain and simple" language promised by Mr. Truman to explain the present situation was not forthcoming. Instead, the president's talk on our economic condition was part political, largely misleading, and wholly inadequate as an aid to the country's understanding of what is going on.

The way Mr. Truman put it, the trend of the national economy—and its prospects for the future—all can be explained away on a basis of heroes and villains. Heroes, in each case, are the administration and those who stood by while House proposals. Villains, according to this easy simplification, are "some people"—unidentified—"selfish interests"—likewise unidentified—and, to nobody's surprise, the 80th Congress.

Mr. Truman's implication that present maladjustments are due to Congress' failure to follow his anti-inflation recommendations does not hold water. He conveniently forgets that his own economists were telling the nation right after V-J Day to get ready for 8,000,000 unemployed not for inflation. Nor does he remind the country that the administration's unwarranted belief that wages could be raised without boosting prices supplied a crucial push to inflationary forces through the period of readjustment is no sounder than his analysis of the causes. He would have the government, expand its activities into a great many more fields, and continue the deficit financing pattern resumed in the fiscal year just ended.

But the government does not—and should not—produce the things we need for an expanding economy and a rising standard of living. Those things are produced by the thousands of businesses and millions of people engaged in everyday economic activities, and every dollar unnecessarily spent by the government is a brake on those activities.

It is outrageously misleading for the president to say that only the "selfish interests" are behind the demand for federal economy. That demand comes from all who recognize that piling up deficits merely builds up trouble for the future, and that there is plenty of room for reduction of non-essential spending by the government.

There was no mention of the possibilities of substantial economies cited by the Hoover commission in Mr. Truman's remarks on the federal budget. He dismissed all thoughts of economies by stating that three-quarters of the proposed budget results from past wars and defense measures. That may be true, but it fails to take into account the overwhelming evidence of the Hoover commission that great amounts of waste can be squeezed out of the defense establishment and other items which President Truman chooses to regard as untouchables.

Perhaps the most remarkable of Mr. Truman's statements was that "some people" want a depression. He might well be asked who they are and what strange reasons they have. For it takes no great knowledge of economics to know that in a depression almost everybody—great corporations, little businessmen, wage earners—loses. And it takes no unusual knowledge of human nature to know what people, even the selfish ones, don't willingly toss away their own prosperity and well-being.

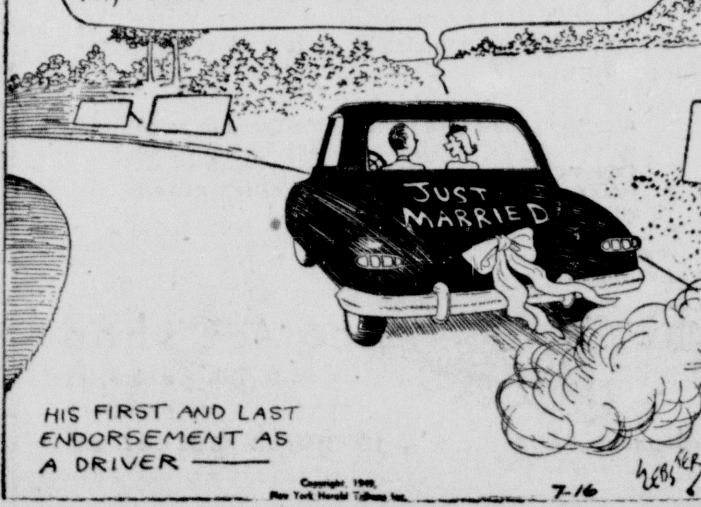

What the country needs right now is the confidence that comes from knowing that the government is trying to set it own house in order, and is ready to act justly in the broad national interest, not to create imaginary bogey-men for political scare-purposes.

It is unfortunate that Mr. Truman's address failed to meet that requirement.

Wheat Farmers Must Make Plan For 1950 Cutback

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(INS)—The nation's wheat farmers must start laying plans today for cutting back their 1950 acreage an average 17 percent or lose federal price supports on next year's crop.

Agriculture Secretary Brannan announced a national acreage allotment of 65 million, 900 thousand acres to slash 1950 wheat production about 6.6 percent below 1949.

A record 83,173,000 acres of wheat were planted this year, of which 75,481,000 are expected to survive deterioration and produce about 1,189,000,000 bushels. Brannan said that he is shooting at a crop of only one billion, 110 million bushels for 1950. Plantings would be down about 14 million acres and production, about 79 million bushels under Brannan's ceiling.

Ordered Cuts
Brannan ordered the production cuts to prevent a giant wheat surplus and severe price cuts. These would place "an undue burden" on the government's price support program, the secretary said.

The government will withhold wheat price supports from farmers who plant more than their individual farm allotments, to be announced later. Brannan said that the alternative to production cuts on next year's wheat crop "might" well be glutted markets, disastrous price breaks and an undue burden on the whole price-support program.

At the same time, he threatened farmers with marketing quotas in future years if they fail to plant within allotments.

The last year acreage allotments were in effect was 1943. They were lifted suddenly in that year because of the war.

In announcing the production cuts on wheat, Brannan also said he thinks the government will have to step in and support pork prices this fall because of a near-record spring pig crop.

Storage Problem Solved
At the same time, he declared that the grain storage problem appears about solved.

Brannan attributed this to the government's granting of special emergency loans, enabling farmers to store wheat on the ground and build on-farm storage facilities. Brannan has asked Congress for permanent authority to control the marketing of virtually all farm commodities when surpluses threaten farmer prices.

Brannan sent Congress a proposed bill to include all livestock, poultry and grains under his marketing control powers for the first time.

He now has authority to control only the marketing of fruits, vegetables, honey bees, naval stores, hops and tobacco when requested by producers.

The agriculture secretary's farm subsidy program appears to have little, if any chance, of congressional enactment.

A Democratic leader in the House predicted that barring a sudden reversal of sentiment over the week end, the House will vote next week to continue through 1950 the existing farm legislation.

Talented Vocalist Will Sing Monday

Marvin Swartz, of St. Paul, Minnesota, talented vocal artist will be heard in a program of Gospel music Monday evening, July 18 in the Northside Community church at 7:30 o'clock. He has been announced. Mr. Swartz has sung for several years on the West coast and studied with voice coaches both in Hollywood and Los Angeles in preparation for the Metropolitan Opera. He is a featured soloist with the St. Paul Bible Institute choral group.

Mrs. Swartz will accompany her husband and assist at the piano. A Gospel address will feature the service which is open to the public.

and also considering that the council's recommendations seem to make no impression on the president, many persons must question the usefulness of the advisory group. Members of Congress are always ahead of the council in the consideration and proposing of legislation; their contacts enable them to get a much better appraisal of public opinion. And needless to say they are for the most part uninfluenced by council recommendations.

Attention previously has been called to the fact that there is no information on conditions in the nation which is not more promptly, more easily and more reliably obtainable by the government departments than by this advisory board on the state of the union. And we know how unwilling the president is to admit any interference of the treasury and the reserve board, although they have the best information upon which to base their conclusions or their interpretations. And we have an Agricultural department functioning as well as an Agricultural department could function on crop conditions and the outlook of same. And the Bureau of Labor statistics presumably has complete information on employment and wages. The Commerce department, it must be assumed, has comprehensive and reliable information on trade and business trends. To superimpose on all of these departments a council of three individuals as economic "authorities" and "experts" contributes nothing to the solution of any of the nation's problems; on the contrary it is possible for its recommendations—with the left-wing majority in its makeup—to create confusion and promote uncertainty in the minds cy. In many small towns and cities the firemen who protect the community against conflagrations serve without pay. Often they include the busiest and ablest citizens who, when a fire alarm is given, rush to the scene of fire. As you can see, the smaller the community the easier it is for us and our children to know these community servants as persons?

Why should we not go farther and help our children know about the many persons who give of their time and talents in the various churches, serving on church boards and committees, serving as members of the choir, as ushers, teachers in church, school and so on. Profitably, our children should learn of the men and women who serve without pay, as hard workers in one or several civic organizations, especially when engaged in community service. I wonder how many children of school age know, for example, that the local, state or national PTA president and the scoutmaster and similar leaders of activities for boys and girls get no pay.

Talking of the many persons in the community who give of their time and efforts just for the welfare of others should make good table conversation for the family. Learning more fully about such unselfish servants and their services should make good topics for discussion by children in the upper grades and high school, even in Sunday school. Such education as I have suggested might prepare our children by and by to be more ready to serve as responsible leaders in voluntary organizations.

Dr. T. H. Morris To Speak Here Sunday

Dr. Thomas H. Morris, District Superintendent of the Grove City district, will occupy the pulpit of First Methodist church this Sunday for the 11 o'clock service. The pastor of this church, Rev. James A. Gaiser, being on a missionary tour in Alaska, members and friends of First church are fortunate in having Dr. Morris as the speaker Sunday. He is well known in the city for his fine philosophy of life and has chosen as his sermon theme, "A Faith For Today and Every Day."

Richard Shaffer At Youth Rally

Richard Shaffer of Bryan University, Dayton, Tenn., will be the visiting speaker this evening during the regular Youth for Christ rally in First Baptist church, North at East streets, at 7:45 o'clock. The program is a continuation of the youth sponsored rallies during the summer months. Nine year old David Johnson who has absolute pitch will be vocalist during the service. Song leader during the evening will be Robert Carnes.

Band Music Will Feature Union Service Sunday

Lawn Of First Christian Church Will Be Scene Of Fourth Summer Service On Sunday

Union services of the churches of New Castle and immediate vicinity will continue Sunday evening at 7 o'clock on the lawn of the First Christian church on the Public Square instead of being conducted indoors as have the three previous services of the current series.

The program Sunday evening will be an unusual one with the members of the music camp, representing some 39 Salvation Army Corps of Western Pennsylvania who are stationed at Camp Allegheny along the Slippery Rock, near Ellwood City, being heard in special band numbers. The voice chorus of the camp will also participate in the program and intersperse the band music with vocal selections.

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, who was originally scheduled to have the evening program, will introduce Major Milton McMahon, divisional (Continued on Next Page)

Recluse Is Found Dead In Mountains

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—A huckleberry picker yesterday found the body of a 60-year-old recluse who lived in a sapling-lathed hut mid about 10 bushels of empty tin cans on Second Mountain a short distance from nearby Fort Hunter.

Dauphin County Coroner S. J. Roberts said the man, identified by State Police as John Adams, had been dead approximately two weeks. He said there was no indication of violence.

Elvin Bittner, of Harrisburg, discovered the body near the hut on an annual excursion to Second Mountain for huckleberries. He said he met the recluse in the berry patch last year.

Over 200,000,000 tree seedlings are being planted annually in nine leading lumber states of the South.

Too Much Sun May Do Serious Damage

Allegheny Medical Society Says Too Much Sun Dries Skin Out

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—(INS)—If you are one of those individuals who look in the mirror for tell-tale wrinkles in the face, keep that youthful appearance by not staying out in the sun too long.

Too much sun, according to the Allegheny County Medical Society, can age skin by drying it out too much. And over-exposure causes sun poisoning, sunstroke, nerve damage, skin cancer or even a fatal kidney ailment.

The individual's protection against sunburn is a flaky, colorless substance called "keratin." It is an ingredient in the top layer of the skin which is similar to the material that can be scraped from the fingernails with a nail file.

Keratin will thicken and harden when heat irritates the skin and when it hardens, it acts like a callous in protecting the skin.

Exposure to the sun's direct rays isn't really necessary to get a tan. The rays which produce a tan are reflected by water, sand and assorted agents.

And a tan, by the way, isn't as vital to health as most people think. Outside of the vitamin D absorbed from sunlight, its main value is psychological. The person who has a tan usually appears healthy and invariably he feels that way, too.

Beginners are advised to use the tanning process—ten minutes the first day and five more minutes each succeeding one. One good rule to remember—head for cover when the skin starts turning pink, good, goody lotion, one which won't mix with water and dissolve when swimming, is a good bet for protection. Lotions do filter some of the rays which give that well-browned look.

County Students Leave Monday For Red Cross Camp

Three Lawrence county students will leave Monday morning for the Junior Red Cross Leadership camp at Bydwin Wood, Pa.

Sponsored by the Lawrence County Chapter of the Red Cross for attendance at the co-educational camp are:

Bruce Brown, from George Washington Junior High school; Shirley Buckley, from Benjamin Franklin Junior High school; and Virginia Dexter, from Mahoning township consolidated school in Hillsville.

These students were selected on the basis of leadership potentialities and will remain at the camp for ten days, July 18 to July 28. Over 200 students from six states will attend the camp.

While the camp is in operation, school administrators from nine European countries will visit it to study methods used and life at the camp.

Life saving, home nursing, water safety and many other useful courses will be taught by the instructors. A complete sports program is planned for the pleasure and recreation of the students.

Students attending the camp will come back trained to lead their Red Cross groups in the schools and other places.

Folks Of Fame

Although he left school at 16, Jay Gould became an outstanding financier. Born in Roxbury, N. Y., May 27, 1836, he worked first as a surveyor, then became a railroad manager and reorganizer. In 1859 he moved to New York City to become a broker of railroad stocks and president of a railroad. His gold speculations caused a panic in 1869, when gold prices fell rapidly. He built a huge railroad empire, and obtained controlling interest in a telegraph company, and also in New York's elevated railways. He died Dec. 2, 1892.

Beatrice Kay, entertainer, was born in Brooklyn, and was carried on stage for an amateur show when she was 2½ years old. She was a night club singer until Billy Rose asked her to study Gay Ninety songs for a revue he was staging. She has her own radio show and makes records. She is married to her arranger, accompanist and singing coach, and lives on a New Jersey estate, with swimming pool and farm.

Bishop L. C. Wicke Speaks On July 24 At King's Chapel

Plan For Speakers, Communion Services, Picnic, And Return Of Former Members

Remember the "little brown church in the vale"? Just as sentimental in value is the "little brick church at King's Chapel".

Proof of this is evidenced each year as the throngs return for Homecoming Day when they add to their store of memories as they meet old friends and make new ones.

The reunion date this year has been set for Sunday, July 24. An added note of interest this year will be the presence of Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke, resident bishop of the Pittsburgh area. He will deliver the sermon at the morning service at 11 o'clock, which will give people not of this area a chance to hear him.

At both the noon hour and at 5:30 p. m. picnics will be held on the grounds, affording all the chance to relive the old days. With the splendid program which has been arranged for the current year, a larger attendance is anticipated than the record one of last year.

In addition to the talk by Bishop Wicke and the picnics, the afternoon and evening programs promise to be of great interest. An organ recital by Stanley McArdle will be given at 3 p. m., and at 4 p. m. Dr. A. P. Weaver, pastor of the Grace Methodist church at Grove City, will talk on "Reminiscences".

At 9 p. m. Merle Weaver will lead the singing of gospel hymns. He is the present pastor of the Chapel. A talk will be given by Rev. Thomas Russell, minister at the Unity Presbyterian church. He is known for his work with young people of the church.

Both old and new members of the church will find this to be an interesting day, with their bishop being present as well as friends and relatives.

Plan For Hundreds At Camp On Sunday

Expect Visitors From Many Points To Attend Free Methodist Camp Throughout Sunday

Preparation has been made by leaders of the Free Methodist denomination for large attendances at the Free Methodist camp meeting in the Croton section of the city on Sunday. All Free Methodist churches of the district will be closed during the duration of the camp session and these members with visiting church groups will swell the attendances.

A full program has been planned on Sunday with Evangelist C. E. Zike of Akron and J. E. Hollister of Chicago bringing the principal addresses of the day. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a great missionary rally is planned with missionaries on hand to address the audience.

The opening service of the day is scheduled for 9 a. m. with other services planned throughout the day until the closing meeting at 7:30 p. m. The camp will close on Sunday, July 24. The week night meetings are scheduled for 7:30. Rev. Paul Splitstone, district superintendent is in charge of the meeting.

Chest Decals Now Mark Agencies

Bright Community Chest decals have been placed on the doors of each of the 12 Red Feather agencies of the Community Chest. These decals, with the red feather in the center, are displayed so that persons in the community will recognize the organizations that are being served by the Community Chest.

Many persons pass these agencies every day and do not realize that they are members of the Community Chest.

These agencies are the Boy Scouts, Catholic Welfare Conference, City Rescue Mission, Girl Scouts, Jameson Memorial hospital, Margaret Henry home, New Castle hospital, Salvation Army, U. S. O., Y. M. C. A. and its Shengango branch, and the Y. W. C. A. and its Elm street branch.

FILES BIG DAMAGE SUIT

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—(INS)—William H. C. Rudy, of Hamburg filed suit for $111,305 damages today against Henry Lynn, of Pelham, N. Y., for injuries suffered in a traffic accident last May 20.

Rudy's wife, Effie S., filed suit for an additional $4,400 against Lynn for the loss of her husband's companionship and her automobile.

The plaintiff, a machinist, averred that he was unable to work at his trade as a result of the accident. He charged that Lynn crashed head-on into Mrs. Rudy's car while passing a truck.

It actually happened. While the owner was away, burglars loaded a half-ton heating furnace and took it away. One never knows when he is going to need Residence and Outside Theft Insurance.

Gamble Is Named Alumni Secretary

Sharon Man Selected For Post At Westminster College—Starts In August

Paul Gamble, R. D. 2, Sharon, has been appointed alumni secretary at Westminster College, according to announcement by Dr. Will W. Orr, president. Mr. Gamble will assume his duties early in August.

The new secretary is a graduate of Westminster, having graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1932. He also attended the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Gamble was associated with radio station WPTC at Sharon from 1933 until 1946. Since that time he has been giving private lessons in piano and keyboard harmony—a teaching part-time in the speech department at Westminster.

He is married to the former Anna Mary Shaffer and they have two children, Richard, 5, and Ina Lee, 3. He is a member of the United Presbyterian church, Sharon, and the Sharon Rotary club.

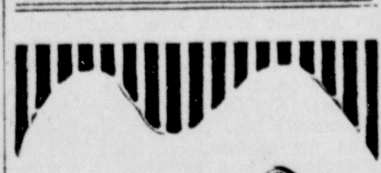

Mr. Gamble's appointment to the position emphasizes the plans the college is making for the centennial celebration in 1952. It will be his duty to co-ordinate the various local chapters of the association with a view to their cooperation in the centennial.

Pacific Union Will Be Formed

CANTON, July 16.—(INS)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek announced today that Nationalist China, the Philippines and South Korea have decided to form a Pacific union to combat the Communist tide.

He said other nations will be asked to join the anti-Communist Asiatic grouping and pool their strength.

Chiang made the announcement to a joint meeting of the Kuomintang (Nationalist) central executive committee and the central political committee.

The Nationalist leader stated that the three "nucleus" nations already are committed to participation in the union.

The generalissimo's declaration on formation of the union—made before any Chinese agency ratified the decision—underscored his taking over personal leadership of China's renewed anti-Communist fight.

(In Manila, Philippine President Elpidio Quirino told his people that the United States and Britain perhaps can afford to be cool to the Pacific union because of their Atlantic Pact "but not we of Asia and the Pacific." He said his country and China will go ahead to weld an anti-Communist Pacific bloc "to save our lives, our free institutions, democracy itself.")

SEEK DOCTORS

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(INS)—More lenient enlistment periods were held out today in an attempt to relieve the army's shortage of doctors.

A new regulation permits reserve officers of the medical, dental and veterinary corps to volunteer for short periods of active duty not to exceed more than 90 days in any fiscal year.

Mae West Seeks $250,000 Damages

NEW YORK, July 16.—(INS)—Buxom Mae West has thrown a $250,000 curve at New Yorks Chatham hotel.

In a suit filed yesterday in supreme court the actress alleged that a defective bath mat supplied by the Chatham caused her to slip and fall last February 26.

Results, says Mae: Fractures of the lower leg. Bruises and nervous shock—all of which caused a closing of her Broadway hit "Diamond Lil" and suspension of her $3,000 a week paycheck.

The Chatham had no comment on blonde Mae's invitation to "c'm up n' see her"—and bring along a quarter of a million bucks.

County Relief Payments Increase

Direct relief payments to needy residents of Lawrence County during the week ending July 15 show an increase of $260 over those of the previous week.

Payments for the week totaled $3,134, which was $1,409 higher than those of the comparable week of last year.

YOUTH DROWNS

CLARKS FERRY, Pa., July 16.—(INS)—An 18-year-old youth, reportedly an excellent swimmer and a member of a family of 12, drowned in the Susquehanna river yesterday while guarding a younger brother and sister just off Duncan's Island at the Juniata River junction.

Lloyd Deimler of Duncan's Island was towing a younger brother and sister in the river when he suddenly let loose and went under water. The children's screams brought another swimmer who pulled Deimler from the river 15 minutes later.

Deimler was pronounced dead two hours after at a Harrisburg hospital.

Lawrence County Robberies Admitted

Youths Held in Youngstown Admit Several Robberies in Lawrence County

YOUNGSTOWN, July 16.—Three Pennsylvania men arrested for the attempted burglary of the Howard A. Watt grocery store, 2729 Oak St., in which one burglar was shot, were bound over to the grand jury Thursday. They pleaded not guilty to burglary and larceny charges.

Municipal Judge Robert B. Nevin set bond at $2,500 as each man waived preliminary hearing. They are William Thompson, aged 18, of Line Ave. and Henry L. Gumienny, aged 18, of 139 Madison Ave., both of Ellwood City, Pa., and Donald McMichael, aged 18, of 1624 Ridge Ave., Beaver Falls, Pa.

The fourth man, Frederick Kelly, aged 20, of Wampum, Pa., who was shot in the thigh after he attacked Patrolman Stephen Butch with a jungle knife, is still in St. Elizabeth Hospital under police guard.

Other Robberies

Detective Chief William W. Reed said the three men admitted to city detectives that they had burglarized two drive-in theaters in Beaver County, Pa., July 8 and two service stations and a drive-in theater in Lawrence County, Pa.

The Lawrence County jobs netted the youths some candy bars at Super Castle Drive-In on Route 422, $7 from the Smith Service Station near Stumps Corners on Route 224, and $10 in merchandise from Arena Service Station on Route 224 near Hillsville, Pa.

Gumienny and McMichael were arrested as they sat in their car near the store. Thompson, who had been hiding at the rear of the building, was arrested at his home in Ellwood City.

Three Are Killed In Plane Crash

PITTSBURGH, July 16.—(INS)—The three persons from the Pittsburgh district who were killed in a plane crash near Kannapolis, N. C. yesterday, were identified today as members of the Civil Air Patrol on a pleasure trip.

Maj. E. Kenneth Long, 45, of Dormont, Pa., pilot of the plane, was commander of the CAP in Pittsburgh and assistant treasurer and a director of the D. L. Clark Candy Company.

The other victims were Maj. Hugh S. Sloan, 35, of Edgeworth, Pa., and Beatrice Ann Kuschel, 28, of North Side Pittsburgh. Sloan was Long's executive officer. Miss Kuschel was a CAP lieutenant.

Relatives said the three had visited Cuba and were enroute to Pittsburgh from Miami Beach, Fla. The plane crashed while attempting to land.

Husband Charges She Was Making Trip With $10,000 Of Money He Claims

SARVER, Pa., July 16.—(INS)—Authorities today were attempting to arrange for the return of Mrs. Ethel Romito and her two daughters, who were halted yesterday in Oklahoma City on a cross-country jaunt with $10,000 her husband claims is his.

Oklahoma City police caught up with Mrs. Romito, Rose Marie, 15, and Ethel May, 6, at a bus station after police in other cities across the nation established some sort of a record for missing the bus the Romitos were riding.

Mrs. Romito claims the money is hers—"I worked for it."—And said she and her daughters left because her husband, Nello Romito, "was mean to the children."

Romito has charged his wife with larceny and extradition proceedings will be instituted.

WOMAN IS NAMED

NEW YORK, July 16.—(INS)—The Democratic party's "New Deal for Women" has reached into Brooklyn and named the widow of a former city judge as a congressional candidate.

Mrs. Edna F. Kelly, 42, was designated yesterday as candidate for Brooklyn's 10th Congressional District.

She is the first woman Democrat to be considered for Congress in New York City.

St. Margaret's Day Celebration, July 20

Supper Tuesday Evening—High Mass, Parade, Band Concert, Fireworks, Wednesday

At St. Margaret's hall, members of St. Margaret's Council met on Thursday evening, with Nick Perrotta, president.

Final plans were made for celebrating St. Margaret's Day, on Wednesday, July 20. This is expected to be one of the biggest events ever presented in the Seventh ward.

The program is as follows: Tuesday evening, July 19, a supper will be served in the hall for all members of the council, commencing at 6:30. A dancing period will follow, to the accompaniment of a local orchestra.

Wednesday, July 20, at 9:30 a. m., high mass will be said at St. Lucy's church, in honor of St. Margaret's Day; 6 p. m., there will be a parade of members of the council, headed by the Red Coat Band, through the streets of the Seventh ward. At 8 o'clock, a band concert will be given on the club grounds by the Red Coat Band; 11:30 p. m., there will be a fine display of fireworks, at the P. and L. E. hall field.

General chairman of arrangements is Frank Prescaro, with aides, Louis Colella, Ralph Cepro, Bart Lombardo, Philip Ross, Frank Masters, James Zarilla, Charles Masters, Angelo Russo, Patsy Monico.

Ladies committee, Mrs. Mariano

Lombardo, Mrs. Rose Zarilla, Mrs. Margaret Masters, Mrs. Jane Rainey, Mrs. Catherine West, Mrs. Anna Perrotta, Mrs. Joe Frank, Mrs. Cecelia Perrotta, Mrs. Rose DiDario, Mrs. Anna Masters, Miss Phyllis DiPiero, Mrs. Catherine Ross, Mrs. Doris Masters.

Breakfast Planned By Penna BO Lodge

Penna BO Lodge members met on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Y. W. C. A. with the business session in charge of Mrs. Lila Shaw, president of the executive board and the officers.

Wage Campaign On Carbage Dumpers

Shenango Township has been waging an effective campaign on garbage and refuse dumpers in that district over the past 18 months, it is reported to The News. A large number of offenders have been caught and apprehended and have paid sizeable fines before Squire Ben Thomas for their acts, it is stated.

Most of the offenses have been committed on the Savannah-Old Pittsburgh road. Normally the fine for such offenses is $65 but the township officials have been lenient with the first offenders and they have been paying $14 fines. The campaign is being continued and watch is being made for any who attempt to mar the beauty of the area by hauling refuse and other materials there.

State Official Says Slippery Rock Normal

District Engineer Of State
Sanitary Water Board
Says Pollution Down

Pollution in the Slippery Rock Creek has been reduced to a point where the stream can now be considered back to normal.

J. R. Harvey, district engineer of the State Sanitary Water Board said Friday afternoon that he had just finished an examination of the Wolf Creek and the Slippery Rock Creek and that the streams are now in approximately the same condition as they were last summer.

Were Polluted

Both streams showed a high degree of pollution late in June and early in July Mr. Harvey said.

"Back on June 13, the operator of the Grove City sewage disposal plant left to attend a special school for such operations at Penn State. The plant was left in charge of two men who were not as well acquainted with the operation as the regular man."

"During that period some things went wrong at the plant and some excess sewage got into the Wolf Creek. The plant was put back into shape when the operator returned although it still is inadequate to handle the sewage problem in Grove City."

"In addition a similar condition exists at Slippery Rock where the college turns its sewage into the boro disposal plant. The boro has contended that the college should pay something towards the maintenance and operation of the plant and the recent General Assembly provided funds for that purpose.

Plans Under Way

"Both Grove City and Slippery Rock have plans for improved sewage disposal plants and we are hoping that speed can be made in getting construction started."

"Recently the Cooper-Bessemer Company at Grove City installed an oil separation plant which now oil mixed with it goes through the separation plant and the oil removed. This will improve conditions both in the Slippery Rock and Wolf Creek."

From the report of Mr. Harvey it seems safe to assume that the Slippery Rock Creek is now as safe for swimming as it has been in other years.

Regular meeting of New Castle Lions club Tuesday noon in The Castleton. The speaker will be a member of our own club, the Rev. Stephen J. Kolcun of St. Nicholas Orthodox Greek Catholic church, who will bring us a message of real interest.

Three Arraigned In "Installment Plan" Murder Of Husband

CROOKSTON, Minn., July 16.—(INS)—A Minnesota farm wife, her lover, and his brother faced arraignment today in Crookston for the "installment plan" murder of the woman's husband.

Sheriff Turkin Knutson said Mrs. Carl Baglein, 33; her admitted lover, Egil Kjalla, 21; and his brother, Martin, 19, confessed killing Baglein when he refused to consent to a divorce for his wife. Knutson added that Martin Kjalla admitted firing the shot that killed Baglein.

Martin Kjalla said Mrs. Baglein offered him $500 for the slaying gave him $140 as a down payment and $40 to purchase the 22 caliber revolver that was the death weapon.

The sheriff arrested the elder Kjalla and Mrs. Baglein as they were leaving the woman's farm with her 13 year old son, Kenneth.

Church Will Find Way To Make Decree Known To World

Communist Radio Jamming Will Not Halt Program Says
Vatican Spokesman

VATICAN CITY, July 16.—(INS)—A Vatican spokesman said today that the church will find a way to make the papal excommunication decree known to "iron curtain" Catholics, despite communist radio jamming.

He said Soviet satellite states are interfering with all Vatican radio broadcasts carrying the papal decree, but said that reports from central Europe indicate the news already has spread by word of mouth to a great extent.

Referring to the Czech plan to put all churches under communist state control, the spokesman said:

Not Recent Plan

"Prague certainly cannot say it decided on that legislation in the last 24 hours. The Czech government had planned complete control and subjugation of Czech Catholic prelates for some time back and would have carried it out anyhow despite the decree."

"Freedom-loving nations are now in a position to understand better where the communist governments are heading—to subjugation of religious freedom."

Reaction to the papal decree from various communist-ruled nations condemned the excommunication as a "political act".

The Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano editorially noted this reaction and said:

"The decree is essentially religious—and the consensus in every part of the world shows that this is fully understood."

Reports American Prisoners Held In Soviet Prisons

BERLIN, July 16.—(INS)—An American GI, whom the Russians freed after five months of detention, said today that he saw a number of American soldiers in Soviet prisons.

Christos Rangaves, of New York, who faces military charges of being absent without leave, said he saw at least eight GI's in the last detention place he was confined to in the Soviet sector.

Rangaves, who claimed he was tortured and beaten by Soviet guards during his imprisonment because they thought he was a spy, said the jailed Americans were "having a rough time."

Chicago Man Heard By Local C. B. M. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ramsey, St. King's Chapel road, were hosts to members of the New Castle C. B. M. C. and their families on Friday evening at their summer cottage when a hamburger fry was enjoyed by the group. The group, numbering approximately 30, enjoyed a short devotional service led by Clare M. Lutz, chairman of the New Castle Christian Business Men's committee. Group singing was participated in.

The speaker for the evening outdoor service was Eugene Scheele of Chicago, general secretary of the Tract Club of America, who spoke on effective Christian personal work. He gave numerous illustrations of his work and told how it was possible for all Christians men and women to be personal workers.

Concluding the evening, the assemblage enjoyed delicious hamburgers and other refreshments. Plans are being made for regular meetings of the local C. B. M. C. with a city-wide evangelistic campaign to take place in early 1951.

Fire At Hershey Does $50,000 Damage

HERSHEY, Pa., July 16.—(INS)—An early morning fire raced through a Hershey industrial school barn today on the Rolling Green farm a half mile west of the chocolate town and destroyed a harvest and equipment valued at $50,000.

The blaze, discovered by a passing motorist, burned the barn to the ground and consumed 50 tons of straw, 75 tons of hay, 500 bushels of wheat, 200 bushels of oats, three wagons, a tractor and other farm implements. Thirty cows were led to safety by Hershey firemen.

We Believe In Co-operation, We Congratulate Our Officials

Good highways come about like every other improvement, by co-operation of our citizens and our officials.

In the past week our city council and our county commissioners have displayed an admirable spirit of co-operation with the state highway department.

The city has agreed to aid in the cost of improving No. 422 at the eastern approach to the city. The county commissioners have agreed to pay twenty-five per cent of the damages incurred when 422 is built from New Castle to Dixie Inn.

Public officials are sometimes criticized for their actions. In this case we believe council and the commissioners deserve commendation and they have ours.

We cannot expect the state to do everything. There are times when it is proper that the local communities should share in the cost. We believe this was one of those times.

How About It?

Have you had your car inspected yet?

You still have until July 31.

We Believe In Co-operation,
We Congratulate Our Officials

Good highways come about like every other improvement, by co-operation of our citizens and our officials.

In the past week our city council and our county commissioners have displayed an admirable spirit of co-operation with the state highway department.

The city has agreed to aid in the cost of improving No. 422 at the eastern approach to the city. The county commissioners have agreed to pay twenty-five per cent of the damages incurred when 422 is built from New Castle to Dixie Inn.

Public officials are sometimes criticized for their actions. In this case we believe council and the commissioners deserve commendation and they have ours.

We cannot expect the state to do everything. There are times when it is proper that the local communities should share in the cost. We believe this was one of those times.

How About It?

Have you had your car inspected yet?

You still have until July 31.

New Castle Tops Butler 4-3; Meet Johnstown Here Tonight-Sunday

Frank Wagner Seeks His Twelfth Victory

Back on home soil, and their five-game losing streak snapped by the 4 to 3 win over Butler Tigers, the New Castle Nats will engage the league leading Johnstown Johnnies, in a single game tonight, 8 o'clock, and Sunday afternoon, 2:30.

The veteran Frank Wagner will go after his 12th win of the year against six defeats tonight. Wagner has vowed that he will turn in 20 wins for the Nats this season. He is over the half-way mark now.

Johnstown Then Erie

Out of the doldrums now of a not too successful trip to Vandergrift and Butler, the Nats are looking forward to wins over Johnstown and Erie, the next four days, to put them back in the running. Erie plays here Monday and Tuesday.

Manager Billy Mongiello and his Nats were exuberant today over their Friday victory, and vowed that the spell has been broken. "We should win a lot of games from here in. The return of Mike Giardullo has given our pitching staff a needed shot-in-the-arm," Mongiello stated. Ty Corbett pitched a fine game at Butler last night, allowing but seven hits until he hurt his pitching hand.

Need Confidence

All the Nats need now is a little confidence and support. The players want to win, they are giving their best in the tough Mid-Atlantic league. There is perhaps no faster or stronger Class C league in the country than the Mid-Atlantic circuit. The league has and will continue to supply many of the major league stars of tomorrow.

Either Mike Giardullo or Joe Karakul will face the Johnstown team here Sunday at 2:30 o'clock, Mongiello announced.

Four straight wins the next four days will raise the spirits of the Nats. New Castle always makes it tough for the league leaders.

Gipp's Triple Does It

(Special To The News)

BUTLER, Pa., July 16.—Behind the clever seven-hit hurling of Ty Corbett, the New Castle Nats downed the Butler Tigers 4 to 3 in a hard fought clash here last night. Corbett injured his pitching hand in the ninth with a two out and had to retire. Herb Churchill finished the game. The Tigers had men on first and third with two out but couldn't produce the winning tally.

Herb Tufts with three for four featured for the Nats. It was Mike Gipp's triple against the left field wall on which Ray Stuckert was hurt, that gave the Nats the decision. The blow drove across two runs and clinched the decision. Hal Pelot was touched for 12 hits by the Nats. Manager Billy Mongiello was ousted in the fifth by umpire Schrieber just before he came to bat.

Tigers Score First

The Tigers got away to a one run lead in the first. Segale walked and stole second. Turzto walked and stole second. Turzto walked and stole second. Turzto walked and stole second.

Dodgers, Yanks Keep On Winning

Yanks Lead By Six And Half Games, Brooklyn Has Game And Half Lead

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 16.—If the St. Louis Cardinals do not win the National League pennant this year, it definitely will not be the fault of Howie Pollet.

The stylish southpaw, ace of the Red Bird mound staff, turned in a masterpiece last night when he held the Phillies to six hits and gave them a 1 to 0 point job. This exactly reversed the doings of the previous night when the Phils blanked the Cards by the same score.

Wins Own Game

Pollet not only racked up his 12th victory of the season and his 11th triumph in his last 13 games, but also won his own game when an infield single.

Brooklyn's Dodgers remained a game and a half in front of the second-place Cardinals in the National League race by walloping the Cincinnati Reds, 11 to 5, Tom Brown, Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson knocked in six runs for Brooklyn with homers, and big Don Newcombe registered his seventh win of the season.

Braves Win

Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves notched his 10th win of the year by pitching and batting his way to a 6 to 1 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Pittsburgh and New York Giants were rained out.

In the American league, the New York Yankees began to shape up as an absolute standout when they increased their lead to 6½ games by blanking the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 0, on Ed Lopat's five-hitter.

Macks Shutout Indians

Philadelphia Athletics beat the second-place Cleveland Indians, 8 to 0, on a seven-hitter by Dick Fowler.

Detroit's Tigers really pulled one out of the hat when they scored four runs in the ninth inning and noosed out the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 7, snapping Boston's eight-game winning streak.

A Six-run Rally in the sixth insuing gave Washington a 9 to 4 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

NEW YORK.—Kathleen Dugan, 5, recently cured of polio, receives an autographed baseball after she was adopted as the "Mascot of the Major Leagues". With her are left to right—Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers, Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, and Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. The ceremony was in connection with the start of a polio fund drive in New York, July 13th, to establish two new wings at the Eastern Area branch of the Sister Kenny Institute. New sections have been named for Robinson and DiMaggio.

City league action Friday evening was limited to a postponed game and two scheduled changes to permit the players a Sunday off.

Universals took advantage of the occasion to go back into a tie for first place while the Indies were idle.

The Ecclesian club continued to keep right among the first four in standing and very close in games won. The Ecc's got good hurling last night and took Croton 5 to 1.

Dick Janacone allowed only five hits and they were well scattered. The handsome right-hander walked only two and struck out an average of one per inning during the seven inning contest.

Barbato, third baseman for the winners, had the game's only extra-base hit, a triple. Gray, De Felice, Nelson and Rubies each had two hits in the struggle.

As witnessed in their last appearance, the Clowns are capable of playing ball with the best the nation has to offer, and owner Syd Pollock of Tarrytown, N. Y., has stated that these same Clowns could compete and hold their own in either the National or American leagues of organized baseball. In fact, each fall when they season is over, they play and defeat all-star major league clubs, headed by Bob Feller, Ralph Kiner and the like in exhibition games played at Los Angeles and coast cities.

The Clowns return to New Castle only after many offers from other areas had been rejected by the club's booking offices. The funmakers are being pressed for return engagements.

A few of these demands can be filled, due to their Negro American league schedule and the mileage covered annually by their luxurious Flexible Clipper coach in which they travel.

Since their last reception at Memorial field was a turnout that showed their sincere appreciation of the amazing versatility and entertaining qualities, the Clowns' booking office has selected and agreed to play this return engagement locally, this time against opposition that will really test the mettle of the popular funmakers.

UNIVERSAL GAINS

Universal A. A. went into a first place tie in the City league last night by defeating Deweys 14 to 0. The Indies were idle and both of the top notch clubs now have an identical record of 23 up and seven down.

Peck Houston went to the hill for the Potters and turned in a very neat five-hit shutout. Paul Coulter got two safeties off the winning hurler, one a double.

Lou Carikito led the determined 13-hit assault of the Universals, who realized their opportunity to tie up with the Indies. The Universal second sacker had a pair of (Continued On Page Fifteen)

Speed Demons!

Have you ever seen the International 500-mile Sweepstakes held annually at Indianapolis, Indiana? No? Well then take a tip from me, the next time it comes around, use the axe on Junior's piggy bank and treat yourself to the "thrill of a lifetime"!

Back in 1937, Wilbur Shaw, driving a Shaw-Gilmore Special, thundered past the 500-mile goal line just two and sixteen-one-hundredths seconds ahead of Ralph Hepburn in a Hamilton Harris Special.

The thrilling finish broke practically every previous record for the course. For the last 200 miles Shaw and Hepburn saw-sawed back and forth for the lead and as they came down the last 10 miles Shaw was leading by less than a lap with Hepburn inching up bit by bit. As they shot down from the last high banked turn into the home stretch, Shaw with a final burst of speed flashed across the finish line as the crowd of 172,000 yelled themselves hoarse with excitement. Shaw had covered the 500-mile course at average speed of 113.580 miles per hour!

Indianapolis Clowns To Play Philadelphia Stars Here July 26th

By popular demand, the nationally famous Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American league, featuring such outstanding Negro diamond stars as "Goose" Tatum, Jesse H. Williams, Sambo Hairston, Ray Nell, Clyde Nelson, Len Pigg, Peanuts Davis and a host of others, will play a return engagement at Flaherty Memorial field on Tuesday night, July 26, in a 8:15 p.m. official Negro American league tilt against their bitter rivals the Philadelphia Stars, who also appeared here earlier this season.

Masters of the art of "shadow-ball," an exhibition in which the infield goes through all the motions of pre-game infield drill without the use of a baseball, and pepper games, plus all zany brands of pantomime comedy both before and during their games, once the contest starts the Clowns' regulars, themselves, settle down to play the brand of baseball which keeps the fans amazed at their dexterity.

Monday the Moose will play the City Softball All-Stars at Gaston Park at 6 o'clock. This is being billed as a big attraction.

BLACKHAWKS WIN

The Blackhawks bested the PBR team last night 7 to 1 at Progressive Field with the veteran Gregg Ross the winning hurler and allowing but two hits. Ross fanned 12 batters.

The DeCarbo Bombers defeated the Nation Guards last night behind the two-hit pitching of Lou Santangelo, by a score of 8 to 0. The Bombers have taken a stronger hold on second place in the league. The DeCarbos had nine hits off Butler, the losing hurler. Red Ross had two homers and J. R. Cople one for the Bombers. The East Side Shamrocks assured themselves a playoff berth in the city softball championship series, by defeating the Shadysides last night 1 to 0 with Dinks Lane hurling his fourth straight victory. The hitting of Billy Fannin and the sensational fielding of Manager Fred Quinto featured for the "Rocks." The Shamrocks have won 17 and lost 10.

Divorce Cases Down This Year

Number Of Hearings This Year Down Over 20 Per Cent From 1948,
Nesbit Says

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Perhaps folks are getting along better.
Or it may be the expense of a divorce is a little high.
Whatever it is, the divorce hearings in Lawrence county for the first 6½ months of 1949 are down over 20 per cent from the same period in 1948.
Deputy Prothonotary Elmer D. Nesbitt has compiled a record of the divorce hearings since January 1 of this year and finds that 90 have been held. For the same period in 1948 there were 115.
Oddly enough many sections of the country are showing an increase in divorces.

ASKS SWAMP DRAINING
Shenango township citizens met with the county commissioners Friday morning concerning a swamp on a piece of property on Pennsylvania avenue held by the county commissioners. The citizens claim the commissioners should drain the swamp and if it is not done indicate they may take court action.

Canton Must Be Defended Says Chiang Kai-Shek

CANTON, July 16—(INS)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek said that the city of Canton must be defended against communist forces advancing from the north.
He told Kuomintang leaders at a reception:
"We must make up our minds to defend this birthplace of the revolution and use this city as a stronghold to defend the great province of Kwangtung."
Chiang insisted that victory can be gained "if we can bring unity to the party."
The statement was made shortly after Chiang's political adviser, Dr. Wang Shih-chieh, said that one of the main reasons for the generalissimo's present visit to Canton is to attempt to reach agreement with Vice-President Li Tsung-jen on a unified military command.
Chiang continued:
"I hope you will follow the example of our soldiers, who are able to suffer great hardships, and I hope you still will have confidence in the fight. Many people consider the present situation very grave but this is an entirely mistaken view. If we can bring unity to the party we can turn the tide."
Dr. Wang said that nationalist leaders have abandoned "all thoughts of peace with the communists."

Try And Stop Me
By BENNETT CERY
Early in his term on the bench, Judge Jim Wallace presided over a case that involved two participants in a drunken brawl. There was one witness. "You saw what was going on," Judge Wallace said to the witness. "Why didn't you go to the assistance of the defendant?" "Your Honor," was the reply, "at the time I was witness, it was impossible to determine who was going to be the defendant."

In the White Plains branch of a clothing company, a housewife was helping her husband pick out a new suit. Whenever he liked one, she cried, "Take it off. It's terrible." Finally, however, she grew tired of the argument and said, "Oh, well, suit yourself. After all, you're the one who'll have to wear it." The man corrected her quietly, "That goes for the coat and vest, anyway."

If you dislike puns, I advise you to skip Jean Vanderbilt's story of the race-horse who met another thoroughbred on the Belmont track and murmured, "I don't recall your name, but your pace is familiar." (Copyright, 1949, by Bennett Cery. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.)

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 16.—The handsome leading men of movie-town are knocking themselves out these days playing buffoons for the cause of numerous charities.
As Vic Mature explained: "We're making plain, unadorned jerks of ourselves. But we're glad to do it if we're helping charity."
A series of baseball games, among other benefits, is being held across the nation for one charity, the City of Hope. The first game, played in Los Angeles, resulted in Ronald Reagan winding up with a busted leg.

Tough On Betty
Mature captained one team with nothing more serious than a "charley horse" which kept him from making as energetic love as usual the next day to Betty Grable on the "Wabash Avenue" set at 20th Century-Fox.
"The comedians have it easy," said Vic. "They can drag out their old routines. But what am I going to do? Bring Betty Grable along and kiss her? It's tough on a leading man."
"So we turn jerks. We're not going to let the Bob Hopes and Red Skeltons get all of the laughs. Anyway the crowds expect you to do something besides miff a fast ball. They're out for a good time. I don't mind missing the grounders because anybody might pull a boner there. But what killed me was when I'd be standing there, holding out my mitts, and a nice easy ball would fall down into them—and right through them. So I sent a buddy out to find a bushel basket. Mature wasn't going to disappoint the crowd. By holding the bushel basket, I could catch any ball, fast or slow. I was a second Joe DiMaggio."

What A Jerk
Mature borrowed a St. Louis Cardinals' outfit, "Just to give me class," lugged along a baseball bat the size of a fence post and a ball "guaranteed to curve." He signed autographs for the kids, "Home Run Mature," and started a fight with the umpire.

"I thought stealing a base meant what it said," remarked Vic. "So I stole a base and started to lug it off. I was arrested for petty larceny."
"People said: 'Look at that Mature. What a jerk!' That made me feel good. I knew they'd be coming back to other benefits."

Fitting Grandparents into the Home
More and more families today face the likelihood of having grandparents living with them. Whether this is to be a blessing or a burden depends partly on the way in which living arrangements are planned.
Many older people find the normal activity and noise of young children hard on them. Grandparents often see the "new-fangled" ways of bringing up children as ones which they cannot refrain from criticizing. Patterns of daily living may be different, too. They arise at different times, want to take a quiet nap or retire early.
Wherever possible it seems to be a good idea for the older people to have quarters of their own set aside from those of the rest of the household. A room with adjoining bath and perhaps even a kitchenette makes it possible for them to carry on somewhat independently and yet still be a real part of the family.
Encouragement also should be given in the matter of making friends of their own. If Grandpa and Grandma have interests which they can share with others, if they can find happiness without depending entirely on children and grandchildren, there is every reason to expect that everyone concerned can enjoy the three-generation family.

POPULARITY
"Can you give me the secret of popularity? I know it isn't beauty, for some of the most popular girls have no claim whatever to beauty and some pretty girls are not popular at all. So what is it?"
Answer: Thirty to forty years ago, a woman needed only beauty to be worshipped as a goddess by innumerable suitors who struggled desperately for the privilege of being seen with her. She needed nothing other than beauty. Feminine brains had not yet been discovered. Personality was a secondary consideration. But men of today put a different valuation on women. To be popular in this generation, a girl must have something more than beauty alone. She must have pep and personality, a good disposition, the ability to dance well, play all of the games and sports that other modern engage in, be interested in the interests of others, strive to please them.
This is the secret of being popular. Forget yourself and the worry over the impression you are making on others. Make yourself liked, by being friendly and cordial to everyone. Give the impression that you are having a good time—not by showing off or by any forced exhibition of gaiety—but by being genuinely good-natured and happy. A dull, heavy, negative person is always avoided like the plague, while a buoyant personality is always in demand.
Accumulate many women friends, for it is through them that you will meet men. The lone wolf who "doesn't like women" frequently loses out in popularity. And to be popular with your own sex, you must avoid cattiness, jealousy and gossiping.

Question: I have a sister very near my age and a girl friend of many years. Which one should I have as my maid-of-honor?
Answer: Have your sister for maid-of-honor and your friend as your bridesmaid.

Summer Months Afford More Reading Time

For readers who use the summer months to catch up on the more significant books recently published, the Public Library offers a survey of titles which are outstanding. A few of these will be given by The New Castle News each day for several days.

The biographies include "Dickens: His Character, Comedy and Career," by Hespeth Pearson, a fascinating new life of the English novelist, "The Great Pierpont Morgan," by Frederick L. Allen, portrays a man who has become a symbol in American financial history, "Arctic Mood," a narrative of Arctic adventures, by Eva A. Richards, is a story of a year's service for the Alaska division of the native school and medical service in the Eskimo village of Wainwright. It should be a hot weather antidote.
